EPIC FILM PRESENTS AN EXTRAORDINARY VISUAL OF 400 YEARS OF BLACK HISTORY

“The Czar of Black Hollywood” film director Bayer Mack announced a
January 2021 release of his upcoming independent documentary
BLACK SEEDS: THE HISTORY OF AFRICANS IN AMERICA

MEDINA, OH – Bayer Mack, a nationally-published American entertainment journalist, record executive, and award-winning documentary filmmaker, reveals he will release BLACK SEEDS: THE HISTORY OF AFRICANS IN AMERICA on January 29, 2021. BLACK SEEDS is an epic two-part documentary that re-examines the history of African people in America.

BLACK SEEDS uses dramatic historical reenactments, rare period illustrations, and an original music score to explain the socioeconomic reasons behind the development of the transatlantic slave trade and shows how the institution of chattel slavery took root in the United States of America. It is inspired by the book "Black History 1619-2019: An Illustrated and Documented African-American History."

Atlanta-based voice actors Carey Conley and Tangi Greene contributed their talents to the film. Conley is a graduate of Specs Howard School of Media Arts with 30 years of radio and television experience. He has provided voice work for Comcast, KFC, Chrysler, Michigan State University, and Dr. Myles Munroe.

Director Bayer Mack is best known as the founder of the independent record label Block Starz Music and its subsidiary Block Starz Music Television, which produced a critically-acclaimed 2014 documentary on Oscar Micheaux, "The Czar of Black Hollywood." Block Starz also produced the 2020 Black Reel Award-winning ethnic hair documentary "No Lye: An American Beauty Story."
